Opioid Consent

Please review the information below and initial next to each item accepting what each statement says.

_____ Dr. John is prescribing opioid pain medications to help control my overall pain.
_____ When I take these medications, I may experience certain reactions or side effects that could be dangerous, including but not limited, to sleepiness or sedation, constipation, nausea, itching, allergic reactions, problems with thinking clearly, slowing of my reactions, or slowing of my breathing.
_____ When I take these medications, it may not be safe for me to drive a car, operate machinery, or take care of other people. If I feel sedated, confused, or otherwise impaired by these medications, I should not do things that would put other people at risk for being injured.
_____ When I take these medications regularly, I may become physically dependent on them, meaning that my body will be accustomed to taking the medications every day, and I would experience withdrawal sickness if I stop them or cut back on them too quickly. Withdrawal symptoms feel like having the flu, and may include, but not limited to, abdominal pain, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, sweating, body aches, muscle cramps, running nose, yawning, anxiety, and sleep problems.
_____ I may become addicted to these medications and require addiction treatment if I cannot control how I am using them, or if I continue to use them even though I am having bad or dangerous things happen because of the medications.
_____ Anyone can develop an addiction to opioid pain medications, but people who have had problems with mental illness or with controlling drug or alcohol use in the past are at higher risk. I have told my provider if I or anyone in my family has had any of these types of problems.
_____ Taking too much of my pain medication, or mixing my pain medication with drugs, psychiatric medicine, or other medications that cause sleepiness, such as benzodiazepines, barbiturates, and other sleep aids, could cause me to be dangerously sedated or to overdose and stop breathing.
_____ I understand that taking certain medications such as buprenorphine (Suboxone, Subutex), naltrexone (ReVia), nalbuphine (Nubain), pentazocine (TalWin), or butorphanol (Stadol), will reverse the effects of my pain medications and cause me to go into withdrawal.
_____ It is my responsibility to tell any provider that is treating me or prescribing me medications that I am taking opioid pain medications so that they can treat me safely and do not give me any medicines that may interact dangerously with my pain medications.
_____ I have discussed the possible risks and benefits of taking opioid medications for my condition with Dr. John and have discussed the possibility of other treatments that do not use opioid medications, including, but not limited to: therapy, injections/procedures, surgery, exercise, or acupuncture.
_____ These medications are being prescribed to me because other treatments have not controlled my pain well enough.
_____ These medications are to be used to decrease my pain, but they may not take away my pain completely.
_____ These medications are to be used to help improve my ability to work, take care of myself and my family, improve my overall function, and meet other goals that I have discussed with Dr. John, but if these medications do not help me meet my goals, they will be stopped.
_____ For Men: Taking opioid pain medications chronically may cause low testosterone levels and effect sexual function.
_____ For Women: It is my responsibility to tell Dr. John immediately if I think I am pregnant or if I plan on becoming pregnant. If I become pregnant while taking these medications and continue to take the medications during the pregnancy, the baby will be physically dependent on opioids at the time of birth and may require withdrawal treatment.

I have reviewed this form with Dr. John and have had the chance to ask any questions. I understand each of the statements written here and by signing, give my consent for treatment of my pain condition with opioid medications.

Pain Management Treatment Agreement _____

When other pain management treatment options are unavailable or have proven ineffective, Opioid (narcotic) medications may be considered to improve quality of life, as well as the ability to function and work. While all medications have possible side effects, Opioid medications are potentially more dangerous with respect to side effects and/or risks. The side effects and risks are discussed with you at the beginning of treatment and periodically thereafter. The facility's goal is to improve the patient's quality of life and the ability to function and/or work. To ensure safe usage and pain control, proper monitoring through drug testing is required. We ask our patients to carefully read, agree and comply with the following conditions. NON-COMPLIANCE WITH ANY ONE OF THESE CONDITIONS MAY RESULT IN DISCHARGE FROM THE PRACTICE.

- I will not ask my doctor to phone in any pain medication for me, as it is against the office's policy. It is my responsibility to plan ahead, arrive for office visits as scheduled and take any medications as directed to prevent running short of medication before my next appointment.
- Opioid prescription refills are available only through a scheduled visit during regular office hours. I understand I may experience medication withdrawal symptoms if I miss my appointment.
- I will keep all scheduled appointments with my doctor.
- Interventional Spine and Rehabilitation of Louisiana (ISRL) must be the ONLY source for the following medication in addition to any and all controlled substances (if being prescribed by Dr. Mark John):

- I will not accept any pain medications from any other physician, and I will alert my other physicians of my narcotic treatment with ISRL.
- I will NOT go to the emergency room for pain management of my chronic condition for which my doctor is currently treating me, unless told to do so.
- I will immediately notify ISRL staff if I receive emergency/other medical treatment for any other reason.
- I will use my pain medications as prescribed, no more than prescribed, nor make any modifications to the prescribed dosages, and I will not give my prescriptions to anyone else, nor will I accept pain medications from another individual. I understand that sharing narcotic medications is absolutely forbidden and is against the law.

- I agree to adhere to all conditions from Dr. Mark John and pharmacy for safe use of my medications.
- I agree to refrain from all mind/mood altering drugs/recreational drugs including alcohol.
